

Building on Hope A Grace for Public Spaces

*Special Event -- Friday, March 6 and Saturday, March 7
Marquette University, Alumni Memorial Union, Ballroom E*

*Sponsored by: Marquette University College of Professional Studies
& the Community Transformation Project*

We are accountable for our neighborhoods.
Transformation begins there.
How we meet, matters!

Are you interested in improving urban communities by building better models for dialogue?

DESIGNING PUBLIC PLACES: PEOPLE MATTER

David Greusel, urban architect, brings over 25 years of design experience. He designs parks and urban infrastructure combining architecture with local transit making it easier for people to come together in urban areas.

Eric Jacobsen, is the author of Sidewalks in the Kingdom: New Urbanism and the Christian Faith, as well as numerous articles on New Urbanism.

This event is in commemoration and honor of Gene H. Krueger
Steward – Teacher – Friend

Friday, March 6 Presentations will be followed by small group discussions.
8:30 am – Arrive, Marquette University Alumni Memorial Union, Room 157
9:00 am – Dedication to Gene H. Krueger
9:30 am – Redeeming the Built Environment, David Greusel
10:15 am – Love Thy Neighborhood, Eric Jacobsen
12:00 pm – Lunch
1:00 pm – Redeeming Neighborhoods, David Greusel
3:15 pm – Public Space Transforming a Community, Jill Florence Lackey
3:45 pm – The Discipline of Place, David Greusel
5:00 pm – Adjourn

Saturday, March 7
8:00 am – Arrive
8:30 am – Review; The Last Word in ConsensUS, David Greusel

Events are FREE but SPACE IS LIMITED

I will attend ☐ Friday, March 6 (lunch included) ☐ Saturday morning, March 7

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: (_____) _____

Email: _____

To make your reservation by:

- Phone: Laura Furey (414) 288-6010
- Email: laura.furey@marquette.edu

- Mail: Laura Furey
Marquette University College of Professional Studies
707 Building, Room 403
P O Box 1881
Milwaukee WI 53201-1881