2015 BILL

1 AN ACT to create 103.12, 106.54 (11) and 111.91 (2) (gp) of the statutes; relating
2 to: requiring an employer to provide reasonable break time for an employee
3 who is breast-feeding her child to express breast milk for the child.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires an employer, including the state, to provide the following for an employee who is breast-feeding her child under one year of age: 1) a reasonable break time to express breast milk for the child; 2) a private place, other than a bathroom, for the employee to express breast milk; and 3) access to an electrical outlet, running water, and a refrigerator for the storage of breast milk. The bill permits that break time to be unpaid but requires an employer to treat such unpaid break time as paid work time for purposes of determining eligibility for health care coverage.

The federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires an employer engaged in interstate commerce, which is generally defined as an employer having an annual dollar volume of sales of $500,000 or more, to provide the following: 1) a reasonable break time for an employee to express breast milk for her nursing child for one year after the child's birth each time the employee needs to express that milk; and 2) a place, other than a bathroom, that is shielded from view and free from intrusion from coworkers and the public that may be used by an employee to express breast milk. In addition, the FLSA permits that break time to be unpaid and provides that an employer that employs fewer than 50 employees is not subject to those requirements if those requirements would impose an undue hardship by causing the employer significant difficulty or expense when considered in relation to the size, financial resources, nature, or structure of the employer's business.

This bill codifies into the laws of this state the requirements of the FLSA with respect to reasonable break time for employees to express breast milk for their children under one year of age, applying those requirements to all employers, including the state, employing at least one individual. In addition, the bill: 1) requires an employer to provide access to an electrical outlet, running water, and a refrigerator for the storage of breast milk; and 2) provides that if an employee's eligibility for an employer contribution towards the employee's health care coverage is dependent on the number of hours that the employee works, the employer must treat any unpaid break time taken by the employee to express breast milk as paid work time for purposes of determining that eligibility.
