

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EUA Announces Jackie Michaels as Project Management Practice Leader

Milwaukee, 1/20/2025 — EUA is excited to share Jackie Michaels promotion to project management practice leader. Our practice leadership team was created 15 years ago to share best practices firm wide and continuously enhance our practice across our five office locations. In her new role, Jackie will continue to support projects, as a project manager and provide input on strategy and direction to ensure we elevate our clients' visions and goals.

"I am truly honored to be selected for this position," Jackie shares, "effective project management is crucial to positive client experiences, and I look forward to working with project managers across all markets to continue to lead strong project teams."

"Jackie has always brought a great balance of skills to her project management responsibilities. She leads with humility, organization and fairness, and her interpersonal skills are exemplary," says Kristin Dufek, President. "We are fortunate to have her in this new position, for the benefit of our clients and teams."

Jackie has been with EUA for 9 years, she is a member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) and a LEED AP BD+C professional. In her career, Jackie puts herself in the client's perspective, working with the team to think about designs that benefit our clients now and into the future.

"I know Jackie's commitment to her craft will help us all be that much better," says former project management practice leader Rob Beisenstein, "I am very excited to see where Jackie takes the position over the coming years."
